

Inner Being

The inner nature of our Being
Is yearning to express
An essence of love that is here
And of life that is now...

A heartfelt blessing of kinship
Has awakened the dream from within
An ancient dance of the spirit
Is now flowing with delight...

The resonation of energy
From within the core of emotions
Is bringing us all together in peace
And together in the midst of battle...

A deepened gaze of raw courage
Shall now flow from our eyes
With strengthened sight and fresh vision
We will surge forth with a power
That shall never let true love die...

There is a simple beauty
Enclosed in each moment
It is the preciousness of our existence
Constantly seeking to emerge
From a natural connection with truth...

Within this journey of life
We shall unite as One Being Aware of the ancient light in our souls
And through time we will remember
That we are truly all connected
Each born of the spirit
With love's rhythm beating in our hearts...
