

Inward Sight

Oh precious spirit, dear heart of truth
Inward in your vision but shining outside
The radiant light of hope glows in your mind
Your soulful ears surpass the world's silence
I feel blessed to have met you as a friend
And to know our paths are connected through love.

A grateful quest to a mysterious realm
Hand in hand we tread together this day
United in motion embracing our goal
Step by step on a journey towards our Source
A new purity of love is born from God's breath
As a glorious light glows from the dawn of time.

A cosmic presence of truth is beckoning our hearts
Into new passageways of experience
Provisions of meaning are being found deep within Immaculate chambers of luminous vision
Guiding us to see ourselves as sacred vessels of light
And as instruments of life connected through Spirit.

We are all ancient Beings of ascension
Our mission is to simply awaken
As the truth has always been known deep inside.

Be not subdued by societal structures and rules
For sincerity of motive is always known
Humanity has had enough of this cloak of sight
It is through our unity that we shall lift the veil
A permanent Incineration of forced delusions
All remnants of it will disappear at our feet
As we begin to push through the transparent debris.

Cleaning away the dust and cobwebs
The obstructions to our potential will vanish
Revealing the purity of truth
For all to know,
For all to embrace,
For all to love.
