

Mysteries of the Soul

*As the light shines before me
My worries will ease and subside
The portals of Love have been opened
And with the tenderness of an Angel's touch
My heart is being nurtured
With generative waves of kindness
Moving forward with courage
Embracing the healing path
Transcending the desolate emotions
That had been endured in the past
Throughout my search for a new reality
I often wondered about what was true
My heart in time was fractured
But the essence of love remained my friend
I give thanks for the goodness that touched me
It awakened me from my pain
You have shared your innate kindness
I can feel its depth within me
It churns my inner being
A new vision of life and purpose
Now it rises from my soul
This mysterious life eternal
I will embrace your magic and wonder
I ask that my heart should lead the way
True destiny will surely be
Thank you for the light of love you share
Upon this journey into awareness
It is this Love that sets me free.*
