

Welcoming the Light

Within a deep place of humility
I bow down before you
With a feeling of reverence
As I honour the God-Source inside
I gently place my hands at my heart
And I now choose with conviction
To welcome in the radiant white light...
Becoming as One with the essence
As it begins to enliven my Being
I shall unfurl myself from within
Opening up from the centre
I surrender to the truth of All That Is...
The vibrant warmth of the sun
I feel it entering my flesh
I remove all obstructions
That may be inhibiting the flow
Now I am fully ready and prepared
To embrace the true nature of soul...
The sacred atoms of my body
That have been vibrating in form
Are being activated and awakened
As encoded photon's of light...
Embarking on an inner journey
Into the sanctuary of Love
It is time for us to connect in Oneness
So as to grow and expand...
Through unity we shall rise
Into a new field of co-creation
We shall reconfigure reality
Based upon a genuine foundation
As we breathe out more Love into this world...
With outstretched arms and an open mind
I now become a funnel for the light
I shall welcome it into my Being
Allowing a river of energy
To flow through the chambers of my heart...
So it is with deep appreciation and gratitude
That I shall bow down once again
In honour of your radiant beauty
And the loving essence of your soul.
