

The Awakening

*It is time to awaken, and to breathe in the fresh air
It is time to arise, and to become more aware...*

*Through this unfolding journey of life
We are being asked to open our hearts
Allowing the abundant Light from within,
To be freely shared without fear...*

*The old paradigm of illusion, has relied upon secrecy
But now the new lantern of transparency
Is being lifted high in the air, to reveal all that is near...*

*We live in a vibrational universe
With magnetic fields of attraction
It is why Love begets Love... it is why Fear begets Fear
And it is by having the courage to give
That we all shall truly receive...*

*Now with a renewed enthusiasm to live
A life of infinite potential
We shall drink from the overflow
That is bursting forth with Love from God's Heart...*

*With the valour to overcome old patterns
That have controlled us as captives of fear
We will now break free from the shackles
And to see a truth that is clear...*

*Even when the dark clouds of confusion
Move across to obscure the blue sky
A vibrant beauty is always shining
Ready to reveal itself once again...*

*The eternal river of Light
Is flowing in magnificent cycles
Pumping life energy into our hearts
And regenerating the passion of our lives...*

*Now as we surrender to the currents
And we let go of all fears
May we all re-kindle our confidence
So as to fly like the Eagles
Into the deepest blue of the sky...*
