

Callings From the Deep

The sounds that penetrate...
are beginning to ignite,
the flames of passion,
within my heart...

A calling from the deep
has awakened me from my sleep...

The burning embers,
of spiritual calm
An exuberance to live Embraced within
The arms of unconditional love...

A calling from the deep
has awakened me from my sleep...

The focused eye,
of the soaring eagle
He yearns to just Be...
Alive within the freedom,
of his feelings...

A calling from the deep
has awakened me from my sleep...

With a determined drive
In the alignment to truth
The hermit has risen
And stepped out of his shell
For he is a Sovereign Entity
And is not bound by the confines of his cage...

A calling from the deep
Must have awakened him from his sleep...

Life is a magical realm of beauty...
We must never forget to wonder...
