

The Time is Now

There is a deep beauty
Imbued within the fibres of life,
A penetrating source of light
Sent from the radiant Sun,
Into cells of flesh
Aligned to the code of eternity
Vibrating with the essence of Soul...

A new Creation is emerging...
As it yearns to experience
The cyclic existence of self
Having been born into
The sacred chambers of time...
Awaken now my friend...
And step into the realm
Of your wondrous being...
Now let us help one another
To bring forth the passion
That erupts from our hearts...
It is time to surge forward with Love
Into the magical lands
Of our intrinsic emotions...
With a determination into awareness,
And through the virtue of compassion,
One discovers an infinite place
That resonates within a vision
Of inner harmony and balance
Aligned to nature's flow
Of infinite strength and courage...
I yearn for a deep sincerity...
Embraced within
The purist of intentions
To remain true to oneself
And to always be true to others...
With our kindest of thoughts
And with our kindest of feelings
We shall pledge an allegiance
To help and to heal
To give and to share
To Love and to BE
AS ONE WITHIN
The grandest expression of who we really are...
